PLOT SUMMARY

Rogi Uchi, a resident of the underbelly of society, reminisces about a fateful encounter he had 27 years ago after watching Machi, an automobile accident victim, whom he started living with under unusual circumstances.

Rogi, who was servicing a novelist at the time, encountered Akitora, the acting leader of the Ooyamato Yakuza Group and the Hanamura Family, and Asoda, Akitora's subordinate and Rogi's high school classmate, while they were collecting debt. Uchi becomes involved in Akitora and tries to get close to him by having relations with Handa, a member of the executive branch of the Yagi Group which is a relative of the Hanamura Family.

One day, Uchi raids the house of a yakuza leader to reclaim the money that was stolen from his acquaintance and declares that he is from the "Hanamura Family" without thinking it was a stupid lie that came from his feelings of wanting to be a part of Akitora's family.
